

Ginger Reaches 100 Operating Hotels in India

Ginger, the mid-scale brand of Indian Hotels Company (IHCL), has reached a milestone of 100 operating hotels in India, becoming the first hotel brand in the country to achieve this mark. The milestone reflects the brand's expansion across established and emerging markets, supported by growing demand for mid-scale hospitality.

Ginger currently has a portfolio of 250 hotels, including 95 properties under development and 55 under brand migration, which are expected to be rebranded by March 2027. The brand's lean luxe positioning combines contemporary design, efficient spaces and vibrant social experiences, with Qmin, its all-day diner, complementing the guest offering.

The brand is also expanding its presence at key travel hubs, with upcoming properties including a 325-key hotel at Bengaluru International Airport, 300 keys at Manohar International Airport in Goa, over 200 keys at Mumbai Terminal 2 and a 200-key hotel at Kolkata Airport. Deepika Rao, Executive Vice President – Select Service Business, IHCL, said the 100-hotel milestone marks an important step towards Ginger's Accelerate 2030 goals, as demand for mid-scale hospitality continues to grow across India.
