

Sula Vineyards celebrates World Moscato Day with India's first homegrown Moscato

On the occasion of World Moscato Day, Sula Vineyards proudly showcases a milestone in Indian winemaking: The Source Moscato — India's first locally produced Moscato wine.

Crafted at Sula's iconic estate in Nashik, The Source Moscato is a lightly sparkling, off-dry white wine known for its vibrant aromas of citrus, lychee, and peach, underscored by refreshing acidity and soft floral sweetness. Notes of honey and rose petals add a graceful finish, making it an elegant, approachable choice for both seasoned enthusiasts and new wine drinkers.

Key Highlights:

-  India's First Domestically Produced Moscato
-  Gold Medal Winner – The Source Moscato
-  Alcohol Content: 5–7% ABV
-  Available in: Maharashtra & Karnataka

“The Source Moscato reflects our commitment to pushing the boundaries of Indian winemaking,” said a Sula spokesperson. “It's light, aromatic, and celebratory—perfectly suited for India's evolving palate and festive culture.”

Whether sipped solo, paired with spicy Indian dishes, or served chilled at brunch, The Source Moscato is a refreshing new chapter in India's wine story.
