It gives me immense pleasure to inform you that on 1st February, 2017, Hotel and Restaurant Association Western India (HRAWI) turned 67 years. This Occasion was celebrated at the Association Office.

In the beginning of February 2017 a very important Seminar was conducted by Mr. Anil Harish, Partner, D.M. Harish & Co., Advocates. Mr. Harish has varied experience and specializes in tax matters, who made his presentation on the Union Budget 2017/2018 to the members of our fraternity to understand the implications of the same.

I also wish to inform you that HRAWI has collaborated with FSSAI to conduct a Master Trainer Certification Programme. The same will be held in the various cities of the Western Region. The first of the Conclaves are being conducted in Mumbai and Pune.

Members are informed that the issue of liquor ban on Highways pertains to implementation of Model Policy of the Union Govt under the MV Act thereby seeking removal of “ Retail Liquor Vends “ on National Highways to address the issue of accidents due to drunk driving . The Courts at the initial stage & finally the Supreme Court have implemented the Model Policy which at no time sought removal of Hotels or Restaurants on Highways. For more details on the issue , members may request for copies of our opinions of the Retd Judges or our lawyers in the matter . A circular is issued to disseminate information on Associations actions in the matter. Members seeking any further information in the matter are requested to write to the Secretary General at secgen@hrawi.com OR admin@hrawi.com

FOOD SAFETY HAND BOOK

A GUIDE FOR THE HOSPITALITY INDUSTRY

The Federation of Hotel & Restaurant Associations of India (FHRAI) is the apex body of the Indian Hospitality Industry and is the 3rd largest Hotel and Restaurant Industry in the world.

The Indian food processing sector was identified as the priority sector by the Government of India. Thus, the Food Safety and Standards Act of India (FSSAI) 2011 was introduced to address this issue with requirements for registration of food industries as well as by enforcing, implementation of improved standards.

A safe food supply chain can only be achieved through development of Food Safety management, which are essential to the wellbeing of consumers, farmers, processors and manufacturers throughout the country.

FHRAI having realised that there was a lack of awareness of Food Safety, hygiene practice and to address this issue, to bridge the gap to attain the overall goal of Food Safety in India. FHRAI at the recently held 51st Convention at Indore launched a "Food Safety Handbook"-A Guide for the Hospitality Industry, on compliance to FSSAI with FSMS outline.

Complimentary copies were sent to all the HRAWI members. However, if additional copies are required the same is available at a price of Rs.400/- at the HRAWI office. Should the needful be couriered to your address, then an additional of Rs.100/- will be charged. The payment for the same can be done by Cash or by Cheque, which would be in the favour of 'Hotel and Restaurant Association Western India'.

A GUIDE FOR HOSPITALITY ON COMPLIANCE TO FSSAI WITH FSMS OUTLINE

HRAWI is happy to announce its Association with M/s. Arts Alive Foundation (AAF) on their MyPet Project that was launched in Pune by the Honb'le Prime Minister on 25th June 2015, as part of the Pune Smart City Project. With AAF coming on board, all pet waste, that is generated, will be collected and decimated by the team of AAF. In turn AAF will pay for the pet bottles Rs. 8/- per kg. This process of disposal will ensure that the soiled bottles are properly reprocessed, thereby avoiding environmental disaster.

It is envisage that the MyPET Project will definitely make a positive impact on the following parameters and measurable matrix's:

- Women Empowerment & Livelihood Interventions
  - creation of new jobs for the needy and the under-privileged
  - Saving the environment from Degradation
  - Reduce Carbon Dioxide.
- Cleaner Surroundings – Swaach Bharat.
- Permanent Savings in Landfill Spaces – Zero Dry Waste Management.
- Savings in Natural Resources – No transportation costs.
- Education & Behavioral Change Model – Lifestyle, Social & Community Impact.

INFORMATION ON THE PROCESS OF RECYCLING

It is to be noted that all PET waste being generated from the Hospitality Industry is decimated at the point of consumption. One of the major issues with disposing off your PET waste to a local scrap dealer is that it is sold to unscrupulous elements who fill the same bottle with regular tap water and sell it as packaged water, a huge health hazard. Otherwise it is sold to manufacturers of low grade cooking oil, phenol or acid. Post which even the rag picker will not pick these soiled bottles and the municipalities will promptly gather them and pile the same up in a dumping ground. Here is an environmental disaster already happening and a big cause for climate change which is all round us. The PET starts leeching into the ground destroying the soil and goes down even further and contaminates the water bodies. The MyPET Project is the only complete 360 degree recycling project available in the world today and AAF can guarantee that all bottles being picked up from HRAWI Associates will be recycled in the most environmental friendly manner available. ■

The 'PET' Menace

Adverse Impact of PET

| Environmental Impact <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Plastic bottles are made from a petroleum product that require huge amounts of fossil fuels to both make and transport them.</li> <li>• Emission of CO2 and other Harmful effluents into Environment</li> <li>• PET Bottles, Not recycled, take millions of years to bio-degrade naturally. They lie stagnant in landfills, leaching dangerous chemicals into the ground, or infiltrate streets as litter forming a breeding ground for harmful pathogens.</li> </ul> |  |
| Human Live Impact <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PET bottles contain harmful elements like Phthalates, Bisphenol A (BPA), Carcinogens etc. that are strongly linked to a host of health problems including certain types of cancer, neurological difficulties, developmental and reproductive effects, defects in new born babies to name a few...</li> </ul>   |  |
| Animal &amp; Aquatic Live Impact <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• PET Bottles often end up at the bottom of the water bodies and in the stomachs of a variety of animal species that mistake them for food.</li> <li>• Aquatic life falls prey to this problem on a daily basis</li> </ul>  |  |

PET Pollution - Not a 'PET'ty Issue

- Production of 10 Lakh Tons of PET in India annually & Only 1/3rd of it is recycled
- Climate Change is for real. There is no Plan B or Plan(et) B for that matter
- Large land areas and water bodies lost to PET waste

Uncontrolled & Excessive PET consumption.      Inefficient 'waste collection and grading system' which is a prerequisite for efficient PET recycling

Inherent Limitations in Current Solutions

- Existing PET recycling solutions are primarily industrial and in the organized sector, far away from PET waste generation and dependent on inefficient collection systems
- PET spillages primarily occur at the point of consumption (Malls, Railway stations and areas of high public footfall.)
- Also spurious elements use empty PET bottles, fill it with regular water and sell it as packaged water, which is a huge health hazard. PET Bottles are also re-used to sell Acid; Phenol & low grade cooking oil, post which even rag pickers will not pick them up. Which then finds itself to landfills causing huge environmental damage

Hence we have devised India's First Retail PET Recycling Solution which is a highly Penetrative and Highly Efficient Product & Process to directly address this issue

Tourism & Hospitality Ignored In Union Budget 2017

"We had very high expectations from this year's Union Budget for tourism and hospitality. Based on the Government's vision for tourism and our hopes were to receive the much needed reduction in taxes which would come into effect in the GST roll-out later this year. Also we had hoped that the government would grant infrastructure status to hotels with a project cost of INR 25 crore as against the present INR 250 crore. But there has been no mention on any of the critical aspects for promoting tourism," says Mr. Dilip Datwani, President, Hotel and Restaurant Association of Western India (HRAWI).

"For the hospitality industry the only take-away from the Union Budget 2017 is the 5 per cent tax reduction which is applicable for all MSMEs. Other than that, the Government has announced plans to establish five tourism zones in the next Financial Year with Special Purpose Vehicles (SPV) set-up. There is no clarity on what or where the Government plans to execute this project. Despite acknowledging Tourism's potential in creating a multiplier effect for the economy, the Finance Minister has not really marked out anything significant for its promotion," says Mr Kamlesh Barot, past President, HRAWI.

"Hospitality as the backbone of Tourism is a big contributor to the Tourism GDP, is the biggest employer and also is one of the biggest generators of Foreign Exchange to the country. It is very disheartening to know that the Union Budget has completely ignored Tourism and Hospitality," concludes Mr Datwani. ■

IHPL Opens i-Stay Hotel In Raipur Chhattisgarh

IntelliStay Hotels Private Limited is an Integrated Hospitality Enterprise inspired by simplicity. Powered by some out of the box thinking and some smart technology, IntelliStay endeavors to redefine the way mundane and often complex tasks are achieved in the travel world. IntelliStay Hotels Private Limited (IHPL) launched its third brand, i-Stay Hotels, with its first hotel in Raipur, Chhattisgarh.

i-Stay Hotels — Raipur Junction is located in the heart of the city, just besides the railway station, and 3 kms away from the bus stand. The central location makes it easy to access for transit stay travellers. The hotel is contemporarily designed with a tasteful blend of modern art and tradition whereas the public spaces have been designed to give guests a familiar yet refreshing atmosphere to socialize and network with fellow guests such as on-site amenities in Raipur include Kalpavrixa — an all vegetarian restaurant, complimentary internet access, banquet hall, shared office space, grab and go counter, and a gym.

Raipur is quickly developing into a business hub, and i-Stay Hotels — Raipur Junction will be a great option for such business travellers. Also, we are looking at setting up a network of i-Stay Hotels, Mango Hotels and Apodis Collection in partnership with IHPL across Chhattisgarh, which has a lot of untapped potential for both businesses, said owner of the hotel Abhishek Agrawal added.

"Raipur Junction is the perfect partner to launch our revolutionary product and get it right. We strongly feel that the hotel will be a boon for railway travellers coming into Raipur from various inner markets of central India," said Prashanth Rao Aroor, CEO, IntelliStay Hotels Pvt. Ltd. with regards to their future plans, he added, "We plan to take this concept forward to connect 100 major railway stations with i-Stay Hotels, through franchise, management contracts and revenue share contracts."

The second i-Stay Hotel is scheduled to launch in February in Mumbai, in the suburb of Andheri (E), and is currently under renovation. The third one, at Tardeo in Mumbai, is also under renovation. Mango Suites properties in Nagpur and Secunderabad are to be renovated and reflagged as i-Stay Hotels. ■

OYO Townhouse An All New Category launched by OYO

OYO currently operates over 70,000 rooms in 200 cities in India and Malaysia. OYO, one of India's largest hotels Company, has announced the launch of OYO Townhouse, positioned as a friendly neighbourhood hotel.

OYO's innovation in this all-new category of neighbourhood stays is targeted at Millennials, for whom price, convenience and a differentiated experience play an important role in determining choices. Based on the needs of the Millennial traveller, OYO Townhouse breaks away from decades-old hotel industry templates. Brand new systems and services have replaced the older, wasteful conventions of the past. Every single element – from the breakfast menu to the booking process – has been reengineered to deliver higher quality and better value. Also, unlike the one-size-fits-all approach of traditional hotel chains, every Townhouse is designed to complement its neighbourhood. Guests will get the stellar features and dynamic service they expect from a

Townhouse, with the added benefit of a hyper-local address, right in the middle of all the action. This reinvention has resulted in a new kind of hotel that's optimized for comfort, efficiency, convenience and affordability.

Ritesh Agarwal, Founder and CEO, OYO said, "OYO Townhouse represents our ongoing commitment to continue innovating and creating world-class hotel experiences from India. Townhouse will operate as a hotel, community hotspot, cafe and merchandise store – to deliver an all-encompassing experience to guests. We are excited to showcase and deliver this proposition. We are confident that our guests will love the experience of these tastefully done properties staffed with OYO Townhouse Managers trained to deliver authentic and unique Townhouse service. This launch marks a milestone in our journey towards the next level of Hospitality, consolidating our position as a category innovator and leader."

Elaborating further, Ritesh added, "OYO Townhouse proposition is based on the needs of Millennials who attach great importance to individuality and self-expression. The "neighbourhood" connect is a result of understanding that Millennials like to switch seamlessly from work to play. They want freedom to choose, change and decide at a moment's notice, but that flexibility is not extended to quality and consistency of service, which remains non-negotiable. Travel and hospitality remains at the heart of this so-called 'planning paradox'. Using our state-of-the-art technology and patented processes, each OYO Townhouse promises a bundle of offerings consumers have not experienced so far in the hospitality space."

OYO has several consumer friendly touch-points such as the OYO App which allows guests to control every aspect of their experience - from booking hotel and cabs to ordering food - from their Smartphone. Recently, the company introduced OYO Captains, a unique concierge service to ensure smooth travelling and on-stay experience. ■

Safety & Security Most Important Segment of Hospitality Industry

All sorts of travellers, from business to recreational demand superior customer service and expect their safety and security to be looked after when booking into a hotel. The guest, who comes to a particular hotel, comes with an understanding that he and his belongings both will be safe and secure during his stay at the hotel. At the same time it is also quite important that the hotel staff and assets are protected and secure. Hence it is very important to have a proper Safety and Security system in place to protect staff, guests and physical resources and assets such as equipment, appliances buildings, gardens of the hotel and also the belongings of the guest. Safety and Security is always the first priority towards guest service.

Safety and security has been identified as a global force that would drive the tourism industry in the new era. Many tourists who stay in a hotel at any destination might be vulnerable to robbery, assault, rape, larceny and fire within the premises. The hospitality industry, as a year round industry, is vulnerable to both internal and external emergencies. Crisis has become an important part of the hospitality industry, and often directly affects the hospitality organizations and their stability.

THE SAFETY AND SECURITY SYSTEMS SHOULD COVER THE FOLLOWING AREAS

- Guest: Protection from crimes such as murder, abduction and health hazards from outsiders, hotel staff, pests, food poisoning etc.
- Staff: Providing staff lockers, insurances, health schemes, provident funds etc. Protective clothing, shoes, fire fighting drills, supply of clean drinking water use of aqua guards, sanitized wash rooms etc.

- Guest luggage: Secure luggage store rooms and proper equipment such as luggage trolley and bell hop trolley should be provided.
- Hotel Equipments: Lifts, Boilers, Kitchen equipment, furniture fitting and building etc. must be protected and for these the Safety and Security should cover up fire safety equipment, bomb threat security system, water floods security system, earthquake security system , safe vault safety and security system etc.
- Protection of raw materials, goods, provisions and groceries etc. For this the safety and security system should cover proper storage and pest control systems, apart from the application of total material management system.

Security encompasses areas such as security of the property itself, company assets, employees' and customers' personal belongings and valuables, life security, personal security etc.

In all workplaces management stipulates that it is not responsible for valuables and employees personal belongings. Yet management must take all possible measures to prevent theft among employees and of employee belongings through its hiring practices and through the implementation of effective management, human resources and operational policies, such as:

- Background checks of selected applicants.
- Policies related to employees' entry to, and exit from, the workplace.
- Spot checks of locker rooms and lockers.
- Effective supervision and control during the work cycle.
- Policies related to the discovery of criminal records and wrongdoing among, and by, employees.
- Control of people entering and exiting the workplace.

With regard to guest valuables, management informs guests that the hotel is not responsible for valuables left in the room, advising them to secure these in safety deposit boxes provided by the hotel. Besides taking care of security issues related to the people they employ, management must undertake some necessary measures, among which:

- Providing "secure" (safety) deposit boxes and areas to keep valuables.
- Policies and practices to ensure the security of these boxes and areas.
- Management and operational policies regarding the security of guest rooms.
- Management and operational policies regarding the security of public areas.
- Security policies and practices for the back-of-the-house areas.
- Employment and training of security personnel.

- Policies and practices to minimize the "presence" and "patronage" of "shady characters" and criminals, verification of registration and check-in personal data and documentation submitted, and curtailing free movement of unknowns on the premises, as well as direct, free flowing communication with local, national and international security authorities.
  - Training of staff in guest and valuable security.
  - Effective supervision and control procedures.
- Safety & Security measures to be taken by hotels

Key Card Locks:

While key card locks on guest rooms are quickly becoming the standard, some hotels still don't take advantage of the added safety provided to guests. Guest room locking systems these days include punch and magnetic key cards which have locks with flash memory and other productivity linked functions. The system can directly be linked with PMS.

Security Guards:

Most hotels do not have security guards while some employ them only at night. All hotels should have their own staff of trained security guards working 24-hours every day to provide the best in safety and security for guests.

Defibrillation Units:

A life saving device in case of heart attacks, defibrillation units are starting to be deployed among police and emergency personnel across the nation.

Security Cameras:

Few Hotels have security cameras with digital technology, intelligent access central system, software interface with CCTV for matching undesirable visitors and criminals, interfacing with motion detectors, pocket lie detectors and spy cameras and use of biometric readers like hand key reader or face recognition system etc.

Fire Alarms:

While most hotels now have smoke detectors and fire alarms, Some hotels have a state of the art alarm system with smoke detectors in each guest room and throughout the entire complex that is monitored 24 hours a day, 7 days per week that pinpoints the exact point of the alarm allowing our security staff to respond immediately to the area of any alarm condition.

Emergency Power:

Very few hotels have any provision for emergency power in case of an electrical outage while a few hotels provide limited emergency stand-by power to provide elevator service and some lighting. Some hotels has a 2-Megawatt stand-by generator that provides 100% emergency power that can provide uninterrupted guest service during a power outage.

Emergency Manual:

Hotels should maintain an emergency manual, detailing operations in the event of a variety of emergencies.

Employee Photo ID:

For added security, some hotels have employees wearing a photo ID nametag allowing quick identification which is very necessary.

In-Room Safes:

In addition to the safety deposit boxes offered by most hotels at the front desks, Some hotels provide in-room guest safes capable of holding a lap-top computer that use the guest's own credit card as the key, this technology should be adopted everywhere.

Guest elevators:

Elevators may also be interfaced with a room electronic locking system, where swiping the room card key takes the guest to the floor on which he is staying.

Bomb threat security

Precautions and measures that may be taken in the above case:

- Security nets and body searches for guests not known to the staff.
- Banqueting suites and other non-public areas should be security checked and locked after use.
- Goods received and bags should be checked and kept tidy.
- If a bomb threat is received via telephone, the telephonist should note carefully what exactly is said, the time of the call received the accent of the caller and background noise if any. After the alert the GM should stay put in the lobby where he can be reached easily.
- Duties and responsibility of staff during an emergency should be well-defined.
- The hotel should work closely with the police to keep them updated.
- Chamber maids and Housekeeping supervisors should be trained to conduct security checks in the guest rooms.

Security measures for women travelers

- Mirrored walls of the guestroom floor elevators so that you can see who is walking behind you.
- Well-lit public areas such as lobby bars.
- Valet parking services to avoid the need of a woman to enter the parking lot.
- Assigning rooms closer to the elevator.
- If a woman traveler is not assigned a room on the special executive floor, hotels most often on request, upgrade her accommodation to that floor without an increase in room rate. The floor is staffed almost 24 hours a day with a concierge

FIRE Threat

Fires in the hotel may result in the injury and loss of life of both the guests and the staff.

Main causes of fire are:

Smoking

- Smoke only where allowed.
- Put out cigarettes in the right place.
- Sufficient ash trays should be provided in eating places and in rooms, but away from curtains and draperies.
- Educate the guests about fire possibilities due to smoking.

Defective wiring, faulty appliances and motor and worn out insulation

Such hazards should be immediately reported to the concerned person and such equipment should be immediately repaired.

Laundry Areas

Care should be taken to see that none of the electrical equipment is left on after use.

Gas leaks

Precautions should be taken against this especially in kitchen areas.

Combustible waste

Combustible material should never be left near the boiler room.

Kitchen

All equipment such as chimneys, exhausts, ventilators, grills, hoods etc. which collect a lot of fume vapor and catch fire easily should be cleaned regularly.

Elevator shafts

These require constant check and inspection. Cigarette butts can ignite the debris and oils that gather at the bottom of elevator shafts.

EMERGENCY SITUATIONS

Apart from fire and bomb threat etc. the front office staff at some point of time have to handle a lot of unusual situations also. Some such situations may be death and illness of guests, theft in hotels etc and many others.

Death of a guest in the hotel

- Once the information comes to the front desk it should directly be reported to the front office manager.
- The front office manager will then report it to the GM or resident manager.
- The security manager should also be informed immediately.
- Donot disturb the body or touch anything before the arrival of the police as this may be a murder or suicide case.
- The police is informed and the hotel doctor is summoned who will check and confirm the death.
- Meanwhile the hotel will locate the residential address of the deceased and will inform the relatives.
- Once the police complete all formalities and activities and gives the permission, the dead body is fully covered and then removed from the room on a stretcher. For this purpose the service elevator and not the guest elevator is used.
- A death certificate is obtained from the doctor.
- A report should be prepared as to who informed of the death, time, room number and date of death. In case there is any luggage of the deceased in the room a list should be prepared and the luggage should be kept in the luggage room and the person performing this activity should sign this report.

- The guest room is locked and sealed.
- After obtaining clearance from the police the room is opened and thoroughly disinfected and spring cleaned and only after permission of the police and subsequent permission of the GM or resident manager the room should be sold.

Handling accident cases

Knowledge of first aid would come very handy in such situations. In general the following points should be taken care of:

- Remove the person who has met with accident from the site of accident as early as possible and take him to a more comfortable area, use a stretcher in case the need be.
- Call the doctor and if possible give him the details of accident and gravity of the accident.
- Take someone along with you to the site of the accident as you may need help.
- Keep alert you must serve the victim immediately by providing first aid.
- Try to protect your establishment from any false allegations.

Prepare a full report of the whole accident giving details of the date and time who reported the incident, room no., site of the accident etc. Also make your comments as to the reason of the accident and how could it have been prevented and what action is to be taken to avoid the same in the future.

The accident book:

- An accident book is usually maintained in all organizations and the receptionist should record all details of accidents which have occurred to employees whilst carrying out their daily activities.
- The book must be kept in a place easily accessible by any injured person or a person bona fide.

- Particulars of an accident may be entered here in either by the injured person himself or by a person acting on his behalf.
- The accident book when filled up should be preserved for a period of three years after the date of the last entry.
- Every employer is required to take steps to investigate the circumstances of the accident recorded and if there happens to be any discrepancy between the circumstances found by him and the entry made, he is required to record the circumstances so found.

Situation of Theft

Theft by employees of the hotel can be avoided by:

- Work business and personal references should be checked before the employee is hired.
- A detailed record of all employees who enter the guest room such as chamber maids, bellboys, room boys, maintenance etc.
- All hotel keys should be returned to the department concerned and no employee should be allowed to take keys out of the hotel's premises.

Damage of hotel property by the guest can be avoided by:

- The hotel staff should identify the main cause for the damage.
- If the damage is appears to be done intentionally the hotel can ask the guest to pay compensation for the same. For this it is necessary that the front desk is well versed with the cost of the damaged item.

Theft can also be avoided by taking the following steps:

- Installing automatic locks on the guest room doors.
- Appointing a security officer who would walk and take rounds at regular intervals.
- Inform guests to use the safe vault of the hotel and not to keep valuables in the guest room.
- Keep a watch on walk in as their likelihood of being a thief is more as compared to a guest who has undergone a process of making a reservation in the hotel.
- Avoid giving room numbers of resident guests to visitors or over the telephone callers.
- In case the guest loses his key and asks housekeeping to open the room door for them, Housekeeping should direct them to front desk.
- Master key should be kept under strict supervision and control.
- Being aware of suspicious persons.
- Regular and irregular schedule of vigil and rounds.
- Stagger lunch and rest periods of employees so as to keep one person on duty on each floor at all times.
- Instruct telephone operator not to connect calls to the guest room in case the request is made by the caller by room number. The receptionist should insist on knowing the name of the guest who the caller wishes to speak to.

- Guest should be informed to keep the balcony door closed to avoid anyone entering the rooms from the balcony.
- Closed circuit televisions should be used.

Situation of illness and epidemics

- The receptionist may be called for assistance during sickness of a guest.
- Patient should be advised to consult the house physician but in case the guest has his own physician the same should be called.
- Housekeeping needs to be notified about the sickness and instructions if any.
- If the case of serious sickness, the guest should be moved to a nursing home.
- During epidemics all precautionary measures especially in food and beverage service area should be followed.

Handling a drunk guest

- The guest should be removed from the lobby as early as possible but being careful not to irritate/offend him.
- Preferably taken to the back office or to his room.
- If he behaves unruly, the hotel security must be called.

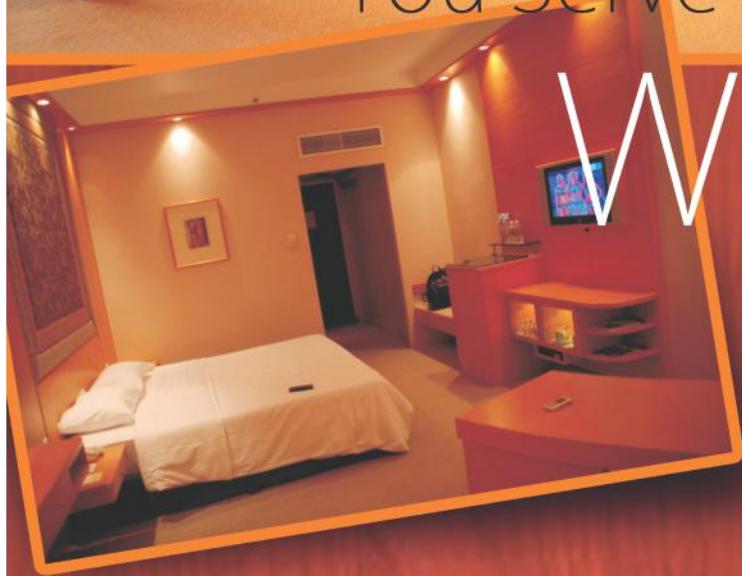

Safety & Security is the most important segment of hospitality industry, even more than a sense of comfort and style, the quality of the welcome, or even the level of service, hotel guests want to feel safe and secure in their hotel. It enables them to settle into unfamiliar surroundings and enjoy the experience without anxiety. It is a feeling they should be able to take for granted. The hotel operator must take this responsibility seriously and understand that this concern knows no international boundaries. It is an important part of a hotel's duty of care. To ensure this sense of Safety & Security, hotels must observe their local and national regulations, but be ready to go beyond these rules, incorporating the latest and best international practices. ■

Tertúlia

eat · drink · love

“Tertulia is the culmination of years of travelling and experiencing wonderful hospitable experiences at restaurants all over the world as well as a family background in the restaurant business. My passion for aesthetics and great food combined in this one space to provide the perfect ambience and culinary journey for my patrons. The most important element in Tertulia is the passion, the love that is infused in all aspects of your experience here. Eat.Drink.Love.” Imrun Sethi, Owner, Tertulia.

Tertulia, three time winner of Timescity, Pune Best Resto Bar is a vibrant, fresh, friendly, all day Resto Bar. What began as the brainchild of restaurateur Imrun Sethi, as a small corner side café serving patrons breakfast through dinner with homemade breads and desserts has moved locations thrice and finally grown into a 140 seater chic, elegant, chef run Resto Bar. His tagline is Eat. Drink. Love and that is the essence of what Tertulia is.

The word ‘Tertulia’ in Catalan/ Spanish means “conversations between friends at a salon/ restaurant or bar”, and Tertulia translates this perfectly by being ‘the’ venue for casual get together, parties as well as special occasions where good food, conversation and drinks express joi de vivre and camaraderie.

Tertulia has a wonderful menu that changes periodically with everything from soups, sandwiches, to appetizers, tapas and main course. Seasonal as well as global inspirations are reflected in the eclectic menu. The best local produce is teamed with premium imported ingredients to create a plate that will fill your heart and satisfy your taste-buds. Comfort food and delicately created and plated food are not mutually exclusive here. The tapas portions are perfect for guilt free indulgence and yet many small plates can easily be shared by the table. A wide selection of breads – wheat, rye, five-grain, baguettes, brioche, croissants, muffins, and more are available every day. A day’s special menu has Chef Sanjib’s daily inspirations and offerings.

The bar offers a specially curated selection of wines, beers, spirits as well as cocktails, sangrias and mock-tails. Seasonal twists on classic cocktails have led to sweet lime martinis and watermelon caipiroskas. The bartenders are friendly and eager to please with new innovations and old favorites. After a few visits they will know your preference and suggest or send you samplers.

The three spaces created within Tertulia provide unique ambiances and have a flow from one to the other. The Tapas bar has stark monotone interiors, high tables, bird cage lights and an easy seating four poster bed with a full service bar. A large blackboard with the day’s tapas and a nice open area for mingling, swaying to the music or hanging out are part of this casual space. The more formal dining room has modern upholstered seating with great lighting, soothing colours and a home-style feel. Chandeliers and hand painted walls, mirrors and a traditional armoire all contribute to the feeling that you are in fact in someone’s very stylish home rather than a restaurant. The wall between the two is a wine cabinet and lets in light while showcasing their specially curated wine collection. The white double doors lead out onto the beautiful outdoor patio, with unfinished Mediterranean style walls adorned with artifacts collected by Imrun from his various stints all over Europe. ■
